A project must be part of an overall plan for the elimination or prevention of water and soil pollution.

For work completed on or before March 31, 1963, CMHC may forgive repayment of 25 percent of the principal amount of the NHA loan and 25 percent of the interest that has accrued in respect to the loan as of the date of completion of the project.

New Cars On 1919 Calendar

A calendar that has hung undisturbed on a wall of the Ed Baldwin farm garage since 1919 was given to John Wolfe of Wolfe's Hardware last week.

Advertising Chevrolet cars, the calendar bears the name of the late John Wolfe Sr., as Vulcan and district dealer for Chevrolet and proprietor of the Vulcan "Chevrolet Garage, Battery and Service Station." A picture of Chev's newest 1919 model of topless touring car adorns the calendar. The calendar's date pad is still intact from April to December, and other than a few tears around the edges the calendar itself is in a good state of preservation.

Reid Hill W.I. Holds Meeting October 11th

The regular meeting of the Reid Hill W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Rutberg on Oct. 11 with a fine attendance of members. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Jack Marshall and Mrs. Fred Schuler.

Mrs. Ray Harold, the president, was in the chair and was assisted in conducting the meeting by secretary Mrs. Marshall. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Kuykendall. The punctuality draw was won by Mrs. J. C. MacMillan.

Correspondence dealt largely with routine matters. A letter was read from the town requesting representatives to attend a meeting to be held in November for the purpose of making plans for the observance of Vulcan's 50th anniversary next year. Mrs. MacMillan and Mrs. Sales were named to represent the Institute branch.

At the conclusion of the business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. E. G. McPherson, who gave a most interesting demonstration on the making of artificial flowers from ribbon and foam rubber. She then presented the finished corsages to Mrs. Harold and to Mrs. Frieda McRoberts, who has been convalescing from a fractured leg.

A delicious hot lunch was served by the hostesses to bring the afternoon to a close.

Three-day Program To Mark Anniversary

The 50th anniversary of Vulcan's incorporation as a town will be celebrated the weekend of June 30, 1963, with special events of various kinds being held on Saturday and Sunday, June 29-30, and Monday, July 1, when the annual Elks' Dominion Day celebration will be expanded and form part of the town's 50th jubilee festivities.

The date and general form of the anniversary celebration were decided at a meeting held in the Lodge Hall on Wednesday evening, Oct. 10, when 25 persons, most of them representing various town and district organizations, were present. Chairman of the meeting was Mayor M. R. Morrison, with M. K. Sinclair acting as secretary.

A special invitation will be extended to old-timers and former residents of the town to attend the 50th jubilee celebration.

Although the meeting was primarily an organization meeting to appoint committee chairmen, several suggestions emanating from the group will likely be adopted. These included such ideas as a giant barbecue Sunday afternoon following an open air community anniversary service, "come-and-go" teas especially for the oldtimers to be held in the Lodge Hall Saturday and Monday afternoons, antique cars taxi service to the Little Bow Pioneer Museum, an expanded July 1 parade, a band to be secured to participate in the parade and provide music at other times during that day, special decorations for the stores and downtown area and a special "Fly-in" at the airstrip.

The following committee chairmen were appointed: General chairman—M. R. Morrison, program chairman—W. H. Richardson, finance—Douglas Smith, publicity—Bob Munro and Peter Pickersgill, decoration—David Mitchell, band—Lundy Findlay, sports day—Ray Wellman (Elks), barbecue—Skeez Christensen, school participation—H. H. Mumby and Fred Cartwright. Other committee heads will be appointed later.

The next meeting of the planning group will be held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, at the Lodge Hall.

Talk On India By Missionaries

The WSWs held their monthly meeting for October in the Grace Church. Rev. Heebner was in charge of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinstry, visiting missionaries from India, brought a real challenge to all present, to pray for the land of India, and to especially pray for the darkened and unfortunate state of the Hindu women. They also showed interesting slides of India and of their work there. After the showing of the pictures, the chorus, "On the Darkest Side of the Road," was sung. Rev. Heebner closed the service and prayer.

A short business session followed and a delicious lunch was served in the basement of the church.

The weekly payroll for 10,500 hourly rate people at General Motors of Canada in Oshawa is in excess of $1,200,000.

Herronton Farmer Loses Calf... Rustlers Or Hunters?

The first reported case of livestock loss at the hand of either cattle rustlers or hunters has occurred in the Herronton district.

Norman Merkel, who farms north and west of the Corner Store, lost an eight-month-old calf sometime late Monday afternoon, Oct. 8, and the guilty party is assumed to be either cattle rustlers out to take advantage of the heavy run of hunters on the road that day, or to "trigger-happy" hunters. There is some evidence to support both theories.

Mr. Merkel had checked his stock Monday afternoon satisfactorily, and was away from the farm the rest of the day. Neighbors reported the remains of the calf in a field on Tuesday.

The calf had been killed and gutted on the spot and all but the entrails had been dragged 150 feet across the field, through a fence and into a vehicle. The thought is that this took place after dark, partly because daylight activity of this nature would be quite obvious and because the carcass was dragged over a boulder under the fence line rather than around it.

as would likely be the case during the day.

One suspicious car in the area that afternoon was a blue 1961 Chev which was stuck in a ditch and its three occupants appeared to be in some stage of intoxication. Also, at another home on the Merkel farm rifle shots had broken windows as well as windows in a nearby barn.

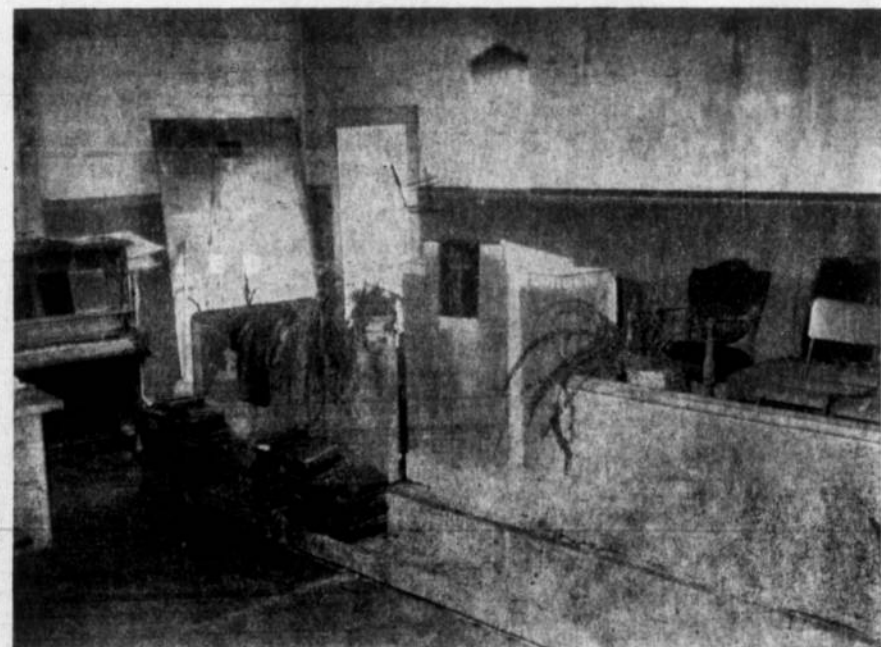

The 400 pound calf would have a value now of about $150, Mr. Merkel believes, and would have brought $300 when finished. It was a "choice beef" calf and the second out of a purebred cow since he purchased it. The brand carried on the left front shoulder was a double M.

Mr. Merkel has never posted his land and has not had previous trouble but three days after the incident he was in the Advocate office loading up with "No Trespassing" signs.

Game officer Bert Freeman and High River RCMP were investigating and meanwhile Mr. Merkel is considering posting a reward for the conviction of the criminals. "I can live without the calf," he said, "But somehow we've got to protect ourselves by catching these people, prosecute them and set an example or it will go on and on."

Mr. Merkel planned on contacting the Hereford Association on the matter and was going to attend the meeting of the Vulcan and District Fish & Game Association, Wednesday of this week.

Part of the fire damaged interior of the Vulcan EUB Church is shown above, several days after the Sunday blaze which swept the building. The piano, part of which may be seen, was burned out, the pulpit badly scorched and down to the front are stacks of ruined hymn books. Heaviest damage was done to the opposite end of the church where the fire ate into the wall and floor.

The present church schedule calls for this Sunday's services to be in the Vulcan United Church, while weeknight services will be from St. Aldhelm's Anglican Church.

October Wedding For Sandra Snow

A pretty fall wedding was solemnized at the Vulcan United Church on Oct. 3, at 2:30 p.m., when Sandra Gail Snow, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Snow of Vulcan, exchanged rings with Murray John Ohlheiser, son of Mrs. Ruth Ohlheiser of Champion. Rev. Sharpe officiated at the ceremony. Baskets of mums and gladioli in the rich fall colors decorated the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of tiered, pleated nylon with side over-panels of chantilly lace. The lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline, trimmed with iridescent sequins and lily-point sleeves. The lace-edged finger-tip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and crystal drops. Her only jewellery was a drop-pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. Her bouquet was made up of mums and Talisman roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Margo Snow of Vulcan and Leona Jones of Calgary, wearing bouffant organza dresses in tones of copper and gold with matching head-pieces. The groom's twin sisters, Noreen and Doreen Ohlheiser of Champion were junior bridesmaids, dressed in figured organza dresses in the white, copper and gold tones, with white accessories. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of mums and daisies.

The groom was attended by Stan Howe of Champion and ushers were Skip Jones of Calgary, Alfred Little of Champion and Doug Racher of Staveland.

Margaret Ann Jamison was organist, playing the background music, and during the signing of the register accompanied Leona Jones as she sang, "Bless This House."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Snow wore a dark brown matted crepe sheath accessorized with copper tones, accented by a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Ohlheiser wore a pale green dress of brocade, accessorized with brown and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The reception followed in the banquet room of the Vulcan Cafe. Miss Beverly Decker of Calgary attended the guest book.

The bride's table was decorated with yellow tapers and centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow roses.

Rev. Sharpe gave the grace. George Richardson of Vulcan acted as master of ceremonies. The toast to the bride was proposed by Charlie Fulton, to which the groom fittingly responded.

For travelling the bride donned a three-piece wool suit in brown and gold. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Ohlheiser spent their honeymoon at Banff and Lake Louise. The happy couple are residing at 727 7th Ave., Calgary.

Soil Drifting Warning

Alberta farmers are urged to take all possible precautions now to prevent soil drifting from becoming a serious problem this winter. If the snow covering is light, strong winds could cause serious drifting because dry conditions in many parts of the province have left the land much more prone to erosion than usual.

Soil drifting emergency control measures recommended by W. Lobay, Alberta's Supervisor of Soils and Weed Control are based on three principles. The first is the re-establishment of the cloddy structure on the surface of the soil. A one-way disc with every four discs removed or a heavy duty cultivator with chisel points or shanks placed at two or three foot intervals is recommended for this job. The next rule is to spread straw or manure on knolls and any other focal points which are particularly vulnerable to drifting as soon as any soil movement is noticed. This will prevent drifting from spreading over the entire field. Listing or ridging the field at right angles to the prevailing winds is the third principle in soil drifting control. A cultivator with shovels spaced about three feet apart will do a very good job of ridging.

Since surface conditions are continually changing, all fields should be checked regularly for signs of drifting and those with a past history of drifting should be ridged this fall. Summerfallowed fields should be very carefully checked this year because cultural operations which were done during the dry weather are likely to have the soil loose and powdery.

Mr. Lobay advises any farmer with soil drifting problems to consult his district agriculturist who will be pleased to help him work out the best course of action for any particular set of circumstances.

1962 Golden Anniversary For Many Alberta Towns

Old-fashioned costumes, parades featuring carriages, democrats and buggies as well as sleek modern convertibles, sports events, speeches and plenty of good food are the order of the day in many towns and villages throughout Alberta which this year are celebrating their Golden Jubilees.

It was the establishment of Alberta as a province in 1905, followed by the completion of the railway, in 1912, which sparked the influx of settlers. These pioneers journeyed to their new homes in Red River carts, buckboards, covered wagons. A large number of them probably travelled in the "fast new railroad".

In the intervening years the vast expanses of grassy prairie have become waving fields of golden grain, dotted here and there by oil derricks. The log shacks have been replaced by comfortable, modern homes, and winding narrow paths have given way to broad, straight highways. The trip from Calgary to Edmonton, which once took eight days, can now be accomplished in four hours by road, or in forty-five minutes by air. The puffing steam engines which pulled the first trains into Alberta are now museum pieces. In their place, giant diesel units speed across the province in a matter of hours, and "dayliners"—combined engine and coach in one unit—run fast, regular service between major centres of the province.

The population of the province of Alberta has increased from a little more than 375,000 in 1912 to its present 1,331,944.

The year of 1912 also saw the organization of the Department of Municipal Affairs, under the first Minister, Hon. A. J. McLean. He was succeeded by Hon. Charles Stewart, who later served as Premier of Alberta, then as a cabinet minister in the federal government.

In the first annual report of the Department, the Deputy Minister wrote:

"The beginning of the year 1912 marked a new era in municipal affairs in this province by the creating of a department to deal with municipal affairs. Alberta is the third province of the Dominion to have a department of this kind; the provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan already having municipal affairs departments. The establishment of such a department has, I think, been amply justified by the work which has been dealt with during the past year—the incorporation of new towns and the establishment of new villages featured quite large in the work of the year."

New villages established in 1912 were: Blackie, Carbon, Chauvin, Clive, Consort, Halkirk, Hanna, Irma, Mirror, St. Paul, Sylvan Lake, Three Hills, Vulcan, Veteran, Rimbey and Acadia Valley. Town status has since been attained by Hanna, St. Paul, Sylvan Lake, Vulcan and Three Hills.

Five towns were incorporated in 1912, but one of them, Diamond City, failed to survive, and was disorganized in 1937. The remaining towns are Bow Island, Coronation, Redcliff and Staveland.

Three further steps went into the record for 1912. First, Fort Macleod, which had been a town since December 31, 1892, came "under the provisions of the Town Act" on March 20, 1912. Next, North Edmonton, an organized village since January 20, 1910, was annexed by Edmonton on July 22, 1912, and finally, Strathcona, which had been made a town on May 29, 1899, and a city in 1907, was amalgamated with Edmonton under an Act of the Legislature effective February 1, 1912.

The record of the past 50 years speaks for itself. Splendid progress has been made by Alberta's rural and urban municipalities. Pioneers there were in the municipal field and there can be little doubt that many Albertans, honoured for laying the foundations of our social and economic growth, are also responsible for the early development of our municipal system. The plain truth is that it would be difficult to separate the growth of the Province from that of the local governments.

AMENDMENTS MADE TO PUBLIC LANDS ACT

The Honorable Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, announces that during the 1962 session of the Alberta legislature amendments were made to the Public Lands Act, removing all reference to school lands. These lands will now be administered similarly with other public lands under the Public Lands Act. A public notice detailing required administrative procedure is being published in newspapers throughout the province.

This change in the status of school lands is the result of several years of negotiations between the three prairie provinces and the Government of Canada. In 1961 the Natural Resources Transfer Agreement of 1930 was amended, granting authority to the province to eliminate school lands.

World War II "Flying Tiger" Rebuilt By Hobbyist Bob Warden

Twenty years ago the planes of the last war, being outmoded later by the P-51 Mustang, and the imposing shark teeth painted on these machines made them the best-known aircraft in the world. These were the Flying Tigers, flown by men under the command of General Claire Chennault in Chinese skies and their success in combat against odds which often were 20 to 1 gave them a most feared reputation by the Japanese. Statistics released in 1952 showed 15 Tiger losses and 284 enemy planes downed.

The machine at Edmonton is believed to be the last of its kind in this country that is airworthy and it is possibly the only one on the continent. It was bought for $150 and in an interview with an Edmonton newspaper reported Mr. Warden said he wouldn't sell it for $1500.

The fighter cruises at about 250 mph, has a top speed of 380 and fuel consumption is 30 gallons per hour. According to its log book, this Kittyhawk saw action in the Aleutians. It was flown by Cec Warden heading a fly-past at an Edmonton event this summer. Firms at Edmonton have been more than helpful as regards the upkeep and operation of the old craft, with hangar space and other forms of help given free. The Harvard training aircraft was purchased by Gavin Breakenridge, a pilot for Gateway Airways at Edmonton and this sleek, smartly painted plane is also completely airworthy.

The photo and details of the planes were supplied to the Advocate by another Warden, Les, who makes calls in this area as Western Canadian Sales Manager for the Massey-Ferguson Company.

F.W.U.A. Elects New Officers

The October meeting of the Berywater F.W.U.A. was held Oct. 2 at the home of Gladys Rushfeldt. Twelve members were present and roll call was answered by each donating a repairable toy to the Calgary Fire Department.

Election of officers, with Reta Love in the chair, took place and the following slate was returned: President, Marjorie Love; vice-president, Reta Love; secretary, Jeanette Sinclair; directors, Muriel Smith, Margaret Richardson and Lorna Gerding; press representative, Helma Sharp; sunshine convener, Muriel Smith; rest room representative, Hazel Smith; library representative, Isa Oldfield.

During the business session Marjorie Love was named to be in charge of the Regal cards for the district members' convenience.

A committee was named to meet with the men to discuss a resolution to be presented at the convention. It was decided to send a Christmas gift to Donka, the local "adopted" boy. Jeanette Sinclair and Helma Sharp were named to attend the Armada convention the following day. Muriel Smith was named to attend a meeting in Vulcan to make preparations for the 50th anniversary of Vulcan, to be observed next year.

It was decided to make a donation to a fund in memory of Mrs. Thorsen. The tea draw was won by Marjorie Love and lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Doris McLean and Mrs. Oldfield.

The next meeting will be at the home of Reta Love on Nov. 7, in the evening.

FALL CONTROL OF LICE AND CATTLE GRUBS

The following article by Dr. M. A. Khan, Veterinary Entomologist, appeared in the latest Lethbridge Research Station Weekly Letter on the use of systemic insecticides on cattle. "It Pays To Control Cattle Grubs."

"The systemic insecticides Co-Ral and Ruelene are safe and effective for controlling cattle grubs and lice in beef animals and non-lactating dairy cows. Timing and methods of application are essential considerations in the effective use of these compounds. Co-Ral and Ruelene are sprayed under high pressure but Ruelene is used also as a pour-on.

Treat animals early in the fall, as soon after Sept. 15, as practical, according to the instructions on the label.

Spraying the easily accessible parts of the animal, such as the neck, back, sides, shoulders, and hind quarters, is just as effective as spraying the whole animal as long as care is taken to wet the skin and not just the hair.

For controlling cattle grubs and lice one application of Co-Ral spray or Ruelene spray or Ruelene pour-on is recommended. However, habitually lousy animals may not respond well to pour-on treatment and should be sprayed, or, if possible, culled from the herd.

With systemic insecticides and simplified methods of their application it is advisable to organize area-control of cattle grubs. In one such project at Forestburg, Alta., approximately 18,000 cattle were treated in three consecutive years in an area 15x20 miles, resulting in a significant reduction in grub population. The effect was most marked in those cattle in the central parts of the area that were at a distance of five miles from untreated herds. In those animals the grub population dropped from 14 grubs per animal to zero. In that area some farmers received as much as 1/2 to one cent per pound extra for warble-free animals sold during the warble season.

It has been conclusively demonstrated in a large-scale experiment at the Lethbridge Research Station that feeder calves treated for effective grub control gained significantly more weight than the untreated ones.

LAEL CHAPTER I.O.D.E.

For thirteen years the Champion Lael Chapter of the I.O.D.E. has offered a scholarship to graduates of Grade twelve at Champion who applied for it and complied with regulations laid down by the Chapter.

Several times some ill feeling was created when the scholarship was refused because those applying were not eligible or regulations were not obeyed. Since there is no longer a Grade XII in Champion and the efforts to assist pupils has been misunderstood, it has been decided to suspend the giving of a scholarship temporarily.

The October meeting of the Lael Chapter, IODE, was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Dow with 12 members present.

Committees were formed to plan the Zone 6 Conference to be held in Champion on Nov. 14, in the Champion Community Hall.

Members are to collect old jewellery for "Save the Children Fund Centre" in Pusan. Evidently the children and adults can be persuaded to have medication and medical check-ups in return for a glittering "bauble."

Wed In Cardston LDS Church

Carol Smith and Dennis S. Bullock were united in marriage recently at the Cardston LDS temple.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Octave W. Urseback in the presence of friends and relatives.

Carol is the eldest daughter of Mrs. Elva N. Smith and the late Morgan W. Smith of Champion.

Following the ceremony the grooms parents Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bullock were hosts at a wedding breakfast at their home in Welington.

The Champion Community hall was tastefully decorated with autumn colors for a reception and dance to honor the newly weds in the evening.

The bride wore a floor length gown of peau de sole trimmed in hand clipped chantilly lace appliques on the bodice. A crown of pearls and crystals released her bouffant veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of tallsman roses.

Attending the bride were Miss Lijda Smith, sister of the bride, and Miss Joan Bullock, sister of the groom and Miss Lorraine Smith and Miss Lorna Smith, also sisters of the bride. Little Miss Margaret Jane Carlson was flower girl.

They were gowned in identical gold and tangerine brocade dresses and carried bronze mums.

The groom was attended by Mr. Kenyon Chipman and Mr. Tom Wild, and Mr. Gerald Bullock, brother of the groom and Mr. Richard Smith brother of the bride.

Also in the receiving line were the brides mother Mrs. Elva N. Smith and her eldest brother Arlen M. Smith and the grooms parents Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bullock.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a dress of navy blue and the groom's mother wore a printed brown silk, each complimented with rose corsages.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. James Carlson and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Forsyth. During the evening Miss Shiela Puzey played appropriate music.

Mr. Duane Forsyth was master of ceremonies and Mr. Delbert Neilson paid tribute to the bride.

Miss Mary Olga Forsyth and Mr. Wayne Smith were in charge of the guest book and Miss Dorothy Orcutt and Miss Sharon Smith took charge of the gifts.

The bride was dressed in a white sheath topped by a moss green coat and complimented with a corsage of sweet heart roses for their honeymoon to Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullock will reside at Provo, Utah, where the groom will resume his studies at the Brigham Young University.

Dann-Christensen Wedding Unites Champion, Bow Island Couple

The Champion United Church was the scene of a double ring candlelight wedding ceremony Saturday Sept. 22 at 7:00 p.m. with Rev. Wm. Morrison officiating.

Leslie Marilyn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Christensen of Champion became the bride of Christopher Dann, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Dann of Bow Island.

The church, very impressive with the bouquets of mums and carnations was lighted by two large candelabra at the front and candles trimmed with green ivy at each window.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven" sung by the 26 member Champion United Church Junior Choir accompanied by Mrs. Ted Carlson at the organ.

The bride's floor length, full skirted white peau de sole dress with its slight train was topped by an Italian lace jacket. Her full cloud illusion veil misted from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses with streamers of white ribbons and rosebuds.

The maid of honor, Judy Christensen, sister of the bride and bridesmaid Donna McKay, cousin of the bride wore identical copper peau de sole waltz length gowns with matching head bows and shoes. Their bouquets were of yellow mums.

The junior bridesmaid Nancy Christensen, sister of the bride was dressed the same as the bridesmaids in gold, and she carried a bouquet of bronze mums.

The groom was attended by Dwain Beesely of Bow Island. Leslie Perley of Vulcan and Robin Dann, brother of the groom, were ushers. During the signing of the register the choir sang "The 23rd Psalm."

The bride's mother wore a dress of gold brocade accented by a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother wore a blue brocade dress with a corsage of white roses.

A reception for 100 friends and relatives was held in the church basement. The beautifully decorated bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, with yellow and white candles adorning each side.

Master of ceremonies Vernon Christensen, the bride's uncle, introduced the guests. Boyd McKay of Vulcan gave the toast to the bride, which was ably responded to by the groom.

Eleanor, Grace and Ruth Hummel, accompanied by their mother at the piano, entertained with several delightful songs. Rev. Morrison then very appropriately addressed the wedding party.

For going away, the bride wore a teal blue wool suit, a white fur tan and gloves and black patent leather accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

After a honeymoon in the mountains, the couple now reside at 734 - 25 Ave. N.E., Calgary.

Out-of-town guests were from Lima, Peru; Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Ponoka, Millet, Bow Island, Vulcan, Barons, Manyberries and Brant.

C.W.L. Hears History Of Rosary

The October CWL meeting was held in the parish hall with Mrs. Les Shaw in the chair. Father Marien opened the meeting with the League Prayer and the prayer for Pope John. Mrs. Les Shaw gave an interesting talk on the different versions and the history of the Rosary.

It was decided that a raffle will be held before the end of the year. The volunteers for the raffle committee are: Father Marien, Mrs. M. Zilkie, Mrs. N. Spanke and Mrs. Louis Shaw. Religious Christmas cards will be on sale at the back of the church. A gift box for the Creche will also be placed in the church, for articles for children from the ages of one to six years. Mrs. Lorna Gerding urged everyone in town who owns property to vote for the library on Oct. 17. The meeting was closed with a prayer and blessing from Father Marien. Mrs. Scales had graciously left envelopes with various jokes and poems which were enjoyed by all present.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Gerding and Mrs. Louis Shaw.

It takes longer to report a wreck than to prevent one.
